2016 ANGP Meeting Minutes

Wednesday, November 18, 2015

Welcome/Introduction

Graduation date was re-confirmed to be Tuesday, June 21, 2016 at 7:30 p.m. at the Eagle Bank Arena (formerly, The Patriot Center) at George Mason University.

Elena found an error in the 10/28 minutes regarding start time of the Craft/Vendor Fair; it was reported to start at 10:00 a.m., but it in fact, opens at 9:00 a.m.

Treasurer's Report – Nannette Henderson

A report was submitted and distributed. There were no questions.

Subcommittee Reports

Activities – Alisa Romero

Ms. Romero is looking into “piggybacking” our ANGP with another local school to possibly incur a smaller fee, especially if the vendor is from out-of-town. We also may have some bargaining power in the delayed contract negotiations with Fantasy World.

Bag Room – Sally Hietanen

Kelly Grizzel indicated that she could help procure the Dr. Seuss book at a lower cost through her business. It was also brought up to investigate whether any local restaurants might have “gift cards” in the manner of an Olympic Gold medal/coin. Anyone with any suggestions as to a take-home-gift for all attendees, to be in the $5-$8 range, please contact Sally.

Donations (Letter Writing) – Ronni Jillions

Mrs. Jillions sent a report. She has sent out around 200 letters seeking cash donations or tangible goods to be used in the Cash Vault. To date has received $2,100.

Flocking - Catherine Benavides

Mr. Flamingo is still making personal appearances at football games.

Graduation Raffle - Laura Gedra

Still slow; only one additional sale since last month.

Holiday Craft/Vendor Fair - Liz Mullany/Denise Krein

Fair is Saturday, December 5, 2015 from 9:00a.m. – 3:00 p.m. May be a time conflict with a football playoff game – this may be adjusted to accommodate the fair/parking issues. Vendor count stands at 140; anticipating at least 150 (130 in 2014). Reaching out to honor societies, and possibly SCMS for assistance. We received the OK to have a Hot Chocolate Truck at the Main Entrance from 9-12. Sign-up sheets were passed for help in putting large wooden signs out into the community and for volunteers to attend other craft fairs, football games, church services, etc., to put out fliers about our fair on the cars in the parking lots. A Sign-up Genius went out in the 11/14 KIT and will be in each week's KIT. Please help in any way that you can! This is our biggest fundraiser!

Fire Marshall Liaison – Michelle Franklin

A safety briefing will be held early in 2016; Michelle will be coordinating with the Activities, Food and Security Subcommittees to meet all requirements.

Magnets - Liz McGregor

A new vendor has been selected; waiting on the new order.

Men's Warehouse – Katie Lord

A flyer will go out at the Senior 100 day meeting on March 15, 2016.

Prizes – Joan DeLaurentis/Christine Hulse

Mrs. DeLaurentis reported that they are resting before Black Friday.

Publicity/Advertising – Kelly Grizzel

If any Subcommittee Chair would like information included in the KIT, please get your copy to Kelly by Tuesday evenings as she submits everything on Wednesday to Deb Boullianne.

Registration/ID Bands – Beth Engelhardt

Contacting Lifetouch Photography for pictures/names for badges. We would like to incorporate the Olympic Theme – replicating an official ticket or pass.

Ticket Sales – Barbara Cammarata/Laura Gedra/Betsy Gates

68 tickets sold. Tickets are being sold during all lunches this week. The incentive for students who buy their tickets before December 1st is that they will be included in a drawing for a $100 gift card from Amazon. She will be looking for volunteers to help sell tickets during lunch hours (11:23-1:23) in December. If you buy before January 30th you will receive 20 extra raffle tickets for the event.

Volunteer Coordinator – Amy Heinlein

Mrs. Heinlein will work with the co-chairs to decide next steps, as she has just received last year's binder from the chairperson.

White House Ornaments - Karen Walsh/Michele Randall

Mrs. Randall sold 30 at the local Spring Hill Residence Craft Fair on Sunday 11/15. The Committee will be at the Craft Fair on December 5 to sell off remaining stock.

Old Business

- Security Chair remains unfilled. Kelly Grizzel may know someone to fill the slot.
- Attendee Survey asking how we can improve ANGP will be completely computerized and ask for favorite/least favorite prize, food, activity and a general question about what would you have liked to see at ANGP;
 - Stations will be manned at the 1) registration area; 2) gym hall; 3) prize table; 4) silverbox (bingo) and 5) cash vault.
 - Once an attendee responds, a hole punch will be put into their badge to indicate completion and they will receive extra raffle tickets.
 - Carla Olivo has been taking photos of the last several ANGP events and she will work with Kelly Grizzel to get photos for the display case and also to possibly create a loop video to play in the cafeteria during lunches. Barb Cammarata will confirm the number of video monitors in the Cafeteria.

New Business

- Capital Custom Clothiers in Occoquan is a SoCo family business and they would offer a 10% cut of tuxedo sales for the prom. Katie Lord will speak with them about their offer before a contract is signed with Men's Warehouse which only give us $5 per tuxedo.
